GENEALOGY
CARL HENRY TANGEMAN

and his DESCENDANTS

FOREWORD

When, at a family reunion at the Shady Side School, on June 3, 1945, the writer was requested to prepare this genealogy, she could not foresee either all of the satisfactions or all of the difficulties which would be involved. The difficulties, fortunately, through the co-operation of all concerned, are now a thing of the past; and only the satisfactions remain.

Through much correspondence and many personal visits with various members of the larger family circle and after showing the manuscript to various members, we submit herewith this record of Carl Henry Tangeman and his descendants. We especially want to give credit for permission to use the large family portrait which appears in this book following page 1 which was prepared from a retouched photo submitted by my parents.

As far as present information is available, the record as it stands is up-to-date. If there are mistakes, we hope they will be overlooked and pardoned; and there may be places where information could have been more complete which we hope will be forgiven.

May this work bind us closer together as a family, help to preserve our family history, and be an inspiration and encouragement to all of us who are descendants of Carl Henry Tangeman.

--Mrs. Bonnie Tangeman Goering, Compiler

EXPLANATORY NOTE

Some explanation about figures that are used to simplify and make easier and shorter the record

Symbol	Meaning
l	child
b.	born
d.	died
s.	son
dau.	daughter
M.	married

Names appearing in all capital letters are members of the strain.
